Yellowstone

Imagine a place where you can see grizzly bears, hot springs, fossil forests, and steam shooting from the ground. You can find just such a place in northwest Wyoming. It is called Yellowstone National Park.	11
For thousands of years, Native Americans lived in the area known today as Yellowstone. It was rich in resources, and the people could find plenty of food and fresh water. They also enjoyed the beauty of the place. Then an explorer who had traveled with Lewis and Clark made his way there. He had never seen such a place! It was a large, forested plateau surrounded by tall mountains. There were amazing sights everywhere he looked! The explorer told others about what he had seen. Soon, people from back East wanted to see the views for themselves.	22
Photographs and paintings of Yellowstone showed people in the East the wonders of the area. They began to push the government to protect this natural gem. Over one hundred years ago President Grant signed a bill turning it into a national park. It was the first national park in the world.	33
Today, millions of people visit Yellowstone each year. They come to see the towering mountains and beautiful scenery. Many hope to see wild animals, such as bear, elk, and wolves. Bird watchers look for bald eagles, geese, and other birds of interest. Others come to hike, boat, or fish.	35
People also come to Yellowstone to see its natural features. Canyons show off walls of red, yellow, orange, and brown. They hold rock formations in strange shapes. Old Faithful, a famous	45
